

CD Coder Camp tables – see pobyrne schema on Redwood

1. Write a query to return each attendee's name and the number of sessions they have attended, for any attendee who has attended more than 2 sessions.
2. Write a query to return the Organizer's name and location name of all sessions.
3. Write a query to return a list of names of people who have either registered as facilitators or organizers.
4. Write a query to return a list of names and e-mail addresses of people who have registered as facilitators but who never registered as organizers. (You may assume that the e-mail addresses are unique to the person).
5. Write a query that will return a list of names of all attendees that have earned badges (only those that have earned badges!), the badge they have earned and the name of the speciality for which they earned them.
6. Write SQL to list the names of any attendee that attended all session runs facilitated by Ken.
